Proverbs

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MISS HALLOWAY OF CHICAGO

...By MARY WOOD

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

She was so decidedly petite that even when she drew her figure to its greatest height the assumption of dignity was laughable. But her eyes sparkled dangerously as she faced the bellboy.

The bellboy was impressed. He eyed the door as if meditating escape before she proceeded to stronger methods.

"Now, see here," she exclaimed beligerently, "this is the third note I have written to the office, and I want a reply this time."

"If you would go down to the desk," the bellboy insinuated apologetically, "Mr. Parker."

"No, I will not go down to the desk," Miss Holloway interrupted decidedly. "That head clerk Parker, or whatever name he answers to, shall come up here or I will know the reason why."

The bellboy departed promptly. "And, by the way," she called after him, "just bustle along some telegraph blanks on your way back. I have a few things to say to my father and some of his friends concerning the lack of accommodations at the Great Eastern."

"Oh, Belle, Belle," wailed Mrs. Holloway, whose ample form had collapsed in one corner of a red plush sofa, "how can you make such a disturbance? Now, if your father was only here. But the two of us alone, without a protector!" And she rolled her eyes distractedly.

"Protector, fiddlesticks!" said the energetic Miss Holloway. "Have you no spirit, mother?" She began to pace the floor excitedly. "Would you be treated as a nobody—you, the wife of Thomas P. Holloway? Consider your position."

Mrs. Holloway doubtless considered her position—she was absolutely at the mercy of her daughter's scolding tongue; therefore she maintained a discreet silence.

"They must be taught the deference due to us, the Holloways of Chicago," said the girl. She was very young and possessed of the follies as well as the graces of youth.

The bellboy now reappeared, holding out a handful of telegraph blanks like a yellow flag of truce. "Mr. Parker," he averred, "he says—'he's coming.'"

Miss Holloway seized upon the blanks and flung herself into a chair beside the writing table. "There will probably be ample time to get off the telegrams before he comes. Things don't quickstep at the Great Eastern."

"But, Belle," Mrs. Holloway protested after the bellboy had closed the door in reverential fashion, "had you not better slip on another waist. Mr. Parker."

"Mr. Parker," her daughter interrupted, superciliously, "is a hotel clerk, a servant. This dressing sack is good enough for him."

She dashed off a telegram and read it aloud reflectively:
Dear Dad—We are being shamefully treated at the Great Eastern. If things are not remedied we will change to the Grand Hotel. But don't worry. I am running this affair, and you can bet on me.
ARABELLA HALLOWAY.

Words failed him. "She does not object," he said easily. "Some day I shall own this hotel, then you will not object."

T. P. Holloway glared at him. "I will," he snorted. "And the sooner you take yourself off the better it will be."

"There is Belle to be considered," Mr. Parker insinuated gently. "She usually has her own way."

T. P. Holloway weakened visibly. "Yes, she usually does," he repeated more calmly.

And the matter of her marriage proved no exception to the rule. She did. And that is how Miss Holloway of Chicago became Mrs. Parker of New York.

Realists.
Actors frequently receive unexpected proof of the realism of their art. This story, which is reported from a Chicago theater, is like the story of the artist who painted a line so vividly that his servant threw water on it.

"Hamlet" was the play. In the gallery two small newboys were watching with breathless interest. The last act was drawing to a close. The dual most dragged the boys from their chairs.

Before their eyes the queen was poisoned. Laertes killed, the king killed, Hamlet killed. On the final tragedy the curtain started down. The audience in the gallery sounded a clatter and crash as one of the boys bolted for the door.

"Come on, Jimmy!" he shouted back to his "pal." "Hurry up! They'll be extras out on dis."

To him the acting had been at least as real as news—Youth's Companion.

A Fable on Gratitudes.
The snake was trying to shed his skin. "Help me off with this, will you?" he said to a frog that happened to be passing.

The frog kindly complied with the request, and presently the discarded skin lay stretched along the ground.

"Now," observed the frog, "I suppose you will do with that as I do with my castoff garments—eat it."

"No," said the snake. "There is something better in sight."

Thereupon he ate the frog.

The moral of this, my dears, is that there is more than one kind of skin game, and some kinds are meaner than others.—Chicago Tribune.

THE GUIDE AND THE TOURIST

(Original.)

Jean Carrier was a Swiss guide. He was rather young for a guide, being only twenty-two, and many people believed that he did not take sufficient care in crossing dangerous places, but all admitted that he was brave and that his impulses were noble. Jean lived at Chamounix, right in among the mountains, and loved Clochette, the daughter of Antoine Defour, who kept a little inn in the valley below. Clochette, as soon as she saw Jean, lived only for him. They were to be married as soon as Jean could accumulate 5,000 francs. It could not be sooner because Defour would give his daughter to no one who possessed less, and Jean had only 3,000 francs.

One day an Englishman came to Chamounix and asked for a guide. "There are many guides," said the person of whom he inquired, "having different requirements. If you wish one who will give his own life for yours in case of necessity I would recommend Jean Carrier. This was enough. Jean was engaged, and the two started to climb one of the smaller peaks.

The next day the stranger came back without Jean and reported that when they were passing an almost perpendicular point Jean had slipped, the rope had broken and Jean had fallen into the crevasse. The tourist showed the rope, which had evidently been broken midway between him and his guide.

There was no doubt that it had broken, for the edge was frayed.

"That was just Jean," every one said, "to go out with an imperfect rope. He was always careless. Then, too, he did not stop to cut his steps properly. But he was a good fellow, a brave fellow, and if either he or another was to go into the crevasse he would prefer to be the one to go."

From the moment the Englishman returned without Jean, Clochette was changed. He said he was rich and offered her a pension. But Clochette would not have it. Her father endeavored to persuade her to accept it, but she still declined, and when her father asked her to give her reasons she told him that she did not believe the Englishman's story. "That is a woman's reason," replied her father. "What object would he have in lying? And does not the frayed end of the rope plainly show that it was broken?" To this Clochette had no reply, but she would not accept the pension.

On more than one occasion tourists came to the valley who talked about the case of the Englishman who had lost his guide and spoke of him as being a marked man in his country. He was a lord, though he had not traveled as such, and had married the daughter of a duke. He was honored for his talents, but since his mishap in the Alps he had worn a melancholy mien, and no one could induce him to speak of the adventure. Letters came from him from time to time to old Defour asking if Clochette had not relented and would accept a handsome pension, the amount of which grew with every letter. Still she declined.

Years rolled by. Clochette never married. She had other suitors, but they answered to them all, "I am waiting for Jean." "But you can never have Jean in this world. He is dead."

He will come to me to tell me how he met his death. At this they would think the poor girl's brain had been twisted by her sorrow and press her no further. And so Clochette grew to middle age, and when her father died she kept the inn.

One spring she heard that at a point down the valley the glacier had broken and revealed a dead body, perfect as when it had been frozen in the ice twenty years before. She threw down a taunting fork she held in her hand and started to see this body. When she arrived, lying on a block of ice near where he was found, she saw the lost Jean. There was the same lithe figure, the same dark wavy hair, the features of a young man of twenty-two. And there, too, was something upon which Clochette kept her eyes fixed, seemingly without the power to withdraw them. Around the waist was the climber's rope, and but twelve inches from the body the end showed plainly that it had been cut.

Those who stood about had not known Jean, and were not aware whose body lay before them till Clochette told them. The first thing she did was to take the rope from the waist, which she kept in her own possession. The body was laid away, and as there were very few people near by who had known Jean his finding attracted little attention.

A week later the tourist who had been with Jean twenty years before received a package by express. Opening it, he took out a rope, tied as it would be about a man's body, one end of which had been cut with a sharp knife.

From that day the man, who had been long rising in the governmental affairs of his country and who was looked upon as one soon to become his party's leader, withdrew from public life and went into a retirement from which he was never afterward drawn.

On Jean's body was found a letter which he had received and on which, in rough red letters—his own blood—was a message:

Sweetheart—I may not die for hours. He slipped and pulled me off my feet. Ten feet below him was level ice. Crevasse below me. We must one or both die. I cut the rope. He will provide for you. JEAN.

Then Clochette knew that the tourist would not admit that he had permitted Jean to die for him. He had made up his story and frayed the end of the rope with a stone.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Now that the treaty between the United States and the newly launched Republic of Panama has been ratified, there is no longer any room to doubt that the work of constructing the canal across the Panama isthmus will be energetically prosecuted by the United States. This work is, next to the suppression of the war of the rebellion, by far the most gigantic scheme ever entered upon by the American nation. The people generally do not begin to grasp the magnitude of this undertaking, and probably all estimates of its probable cost will fall far short of the actual expense. It has been, and still is, a debatable question as to which is the better route of the two—the Panama scheme or the Nicaragua route. The French engineers, after a careful investigation, pronounced in favor of the Panama canal, and became stalled after expending $90,000,000, or considerably more than one-half of the total estimated cost, and the amount of work done for this outlay was the removal of between 30 and 40 million cubic yards of material. The work that remains to be done consists of about 100 million cubic yards of material to be excavated, besides costly dams and other work in connection with providing locks. How long it will take to build this vast undertaking is problematical. Some estimate that five million cubic yards may be excavated each year. At this rate it would take 20 years to complete the work. One of the great difficulties to contend with is that the sea level on the Atlantic side is considerably higher than on the sea level on the Pacific side. On this account it is deemed impracticable to construct a sea level canal through which vessels could navigate safely from one ocean to the other. If the tides of the two oceans were allowed to meet unopposed, the tidal wave created at the point of junction would doubtless be an effective bar to navigation. For this reason it is proposed to construct locks at different points to overcome this difficulty. How a system of this kind will work out in practice cannot be foreseen. It is also claimed that when constructed the canal will be useless for sailing vessels, not only on account of the heavy towage charges, but also because on the Pacific side the terminus of the canal is in a region of dead calm. A sailing vessel would have to be towed from 1000 to 1500 miles westward to get into the trade winds, and make a course for its destination.

As a county, Amador has done absolutely nothing in the way of providing for an exhibit of her mineral and agricultural resources at the St. Louis exposition. What little has been done in this direction is due to the state authorities, and is necessarily of a very imperfect character. We consider it a shame—a reflection upon our county, and especially upon the county administration—that Amador should be so indifferent on this matter as to fail to make any effort to send a fitting exhibit of her varied resources to this important gathering of the world's resources. While our neighboring counties, especially in the valleys, have been exerting themselves to the utmost in this direction, we have folded our hands in idleness. The literature that has been issued in behalf of the state generally, barely mentions Amador county, while not a page nor a line has been compiled in the special interest of this favored region. We do not believe the people of Amador county will indorse this indifference. If our lands were all occupied, if our population were pressing the limit, and our resources in every direction were fully exploited, there would be some excuse for this neglect. But as it is, with our varied resources almost untouched, we believe it is little short of business suicide to manifest such a don't-care spirit in relation to the great world's fair at St. Louis.

To keep step with the spirit of the times, a bill has been introduced in Congress providing for an increase of the salaries of federal officers. It is proposed to make the salary of president $75,000, an increase of $25,000 per year. The Vice President to have $15,000, Speaker of the House $12,000, each member of the cabinet $15,000, and Senators and representatives $8000 each.

SUTTER CREEK AND VICINITY.

[Received too late for last issue.]
Mr. Courtmarsh, a well-known mining expert of Calaveras and Tuolumne counties, in company with Mr. Smythe, a capitalist from Chicago, completed arrangements the early part of the week to begin operations on the old Imperial mine, located on the Pete King ranch. Mr. Smythe and other Chicago capitalists have taken a bond on this property, with the intention of expending an amount sufficient to prove the value of their undertaking. Mining men of this locality express the opinion that success will certainly reward the development of this mine, situated on the same vein as the Zeila. Mr. Courtmarsh will superintend the property.

The young ladies of the Catholic church have organized an aid society and elected Misses Solari, Brignole and Fagan an executive committee. They intend holding a bazaar in the near future.

The miners at the Central Eureka completed their contract of 100 feet the early part of the week. Having obtained good milling ore through this distance, the contract has been extended another hundred feet.

Mrs. T. Botto met with a painful accident on Friday last which caused the dislocation of her arm at the shoulder. J. A. Brent spent several days this week in this vicinity looking after mining interests.

The rainfall of the past few days has made a difference daily of about fifty skips in the hoisting of water from the South Eureka.

Mrs. Capt. Coledge returned Friday evening, after a short visit to San Francisco and Berkeley.

Miss Frances Brown is now fairly installed in her new field of work at the Fabiola hospital, where she intends to fit herself for the duties of a trained nurse.

H. Morris, who for several weeks past has been engaged in the coal business in Stockton, has sold his interest in that locality and returned to Sutter Creek.

Miss Mabel Tanner, who has resided for the past few years in San Francisco, was married Saturday evening at the residence of her mother on Turk street, to Mr. A. Harrison of that place.

The protracted meetings which have been in session for the past two weeks, were brought to a close on Tuesday evening, when Evangelist Williams lectured to an attentive audience on "The last record of the tiger."

Senator Voorhels and daughter are expected home the first of next month.

SUPERIOR COURT.

NON. R. C. BUST, JUDGE.

Celeste Matroni vs. E. Carli and others—Hearing of report of receiver continued until March 5, to enable objections to be filed to said report.

W. A. Neill vs. W. A. Fleming and others—Motion for change of venue. Cammetti & Bole, as counsel for plaintiff, asked for a continuance for one week. Denied. Affidavits were read in support of and against said motion. Motion for change of venue granted. Court allowed counsel for respective parties until next Saturday to agree upon the county in which the case shall be tried.

Estate of Frank Hoffman—Decree of partial distribution granted.
Sarah Lee vs. Eugene Lee—Decree of divorce granted on the grounds of neglect and desertion.

Estate of Henry Hardy—Petition filed asking that the whole of the estate be set apart for benefit of widow.

NEW SUITS.

Ancient Channel Mining Company vs. J. B. Rawlings—Suit for the recovery of certain personal property, consisting of horse and spring wagon, was taken, valued at $125.

Trial had in justices' court of Plymouth, resulting in judgment for defendant. Plaintiff appeals for said judgment on questions of both law and fact.

Estate of Edward Julius Klein—Estate consists of 88 acres, the value of which is $200. W. D. Dufrene applies for letters of administration. W. H. Willis, attorney for petitioner. March 12 appointed for hearing same.

Estate and guardianship of Anna Rebecca Chamberlain and Jennie May Chamberlain—W. S. Axford applies for letters of guardianship. March 12 appointed for hearing same.

Serafino Scapicino vs. W. E. Spear and A. J. Spear—On appeal from justice court of township three. Plaintiff sued for $175.99, amount alleged to be due for charcoal sold and delivered to defendants. At the trial in the lower court plaintiff obtained judgment for full amount claimed, and costs. Defendants appeal on questions of both law and fact. R. C. Bole and W. H. Willis attorneys for plaintiff. John F. Davis for defendants and appellants.

Fred Eudey and others vs. Consolidated Jackson Mining Co.—Suit to cancel a certain agreement made Oct. 17, 1900, between Catherine I. Fleming and B. A. Ogden concerning the Fleming ranch in Jackson township, which agreement was on the 12th of December, 1900, transferred by B. A. Ogden to Consolidated Jackson Mining Company. It is alleged that the terms of said agreement have not been complied with, and that defendant has forfeited all rights thereunder. That the agreement being of record on the official records of Amador county, is a cloud upon the title. That on Dec. 9, 1903, Catherine I. Fleming conveyed all her interest in the land described in the agreement to plaintiffs. Suit is brought to cancel said agreement and quiet plaintiffs' title to the property described. W. J. McGee, attorney for plaintiffs.

Railroad Talk.

The talk of a railroad to the mineral belt is persistent. In both Jackson and Sutter Creek the people generally are thoroughly imbued with the idea that a railroad from Ione to both these towns will be an accomplished fact within the next year. The basis of this confidence is perhaps more in the fact that two or three projects have been mooted of late, and also that electric energy sufficient to operate a short line of this character is not only readily obtainable, but is anxiously seeking engagement. E. Records, who is the representative of the American River Electric Company, sent up to look into the project of supplying Ione with electric light, was in Sutter Creek the latter part of last week, to ascertain the feeling on the proposed railroad.

The encouragement, so it is reported, was such, that in a very short time after his arrival, the report was given out that he had all the capital subscribed that he needed to float the enterprise. There was a rival scheme for furnishing power by the old Key-stone ditch. This ditch takes water from Sutter Creek, and extends for a distance of eight miles or more. It is claimed that the water available would furnish 300 horse power for eight or nine months in the year. Whether the suggestion of this new source of power has had the effect of causing a compromise we do not know. We are told that parties in Sutter Creek have promised to raise the required amount of money. Mr. Records and other parties interested left early in the week for San Francisco. With a feasible scheme it ought not to be difficult to float bonds sufficient to build and equip the road, provided $20,000 or $30,000 is first put up by the promoters. There is some talk of a road from the mining belt to tide water at Stockton. Such a road would at once antagonize the Southern Pacific, while an independent road to connect the towns of the mother lode with the terminus of the Southern Pacific at Ione would command encouragement of that company. The big corporation would have little to gain by the extension of its line to Jackson. The increased rates for freight and passengers would be trifling in comparison with the cost of construction. They would naturally prefer to see an independent line built, and thereby secure the traffic they already have. But to parallel that road by running to Stockton, would, it seems to us, be a very foolish proposition, from an investment standpoint, however advantageous it might be from other viewpoints. However, the people of this section will rejoice in the carrying out of any plan that will do away with the twelve miles of staging and freighting that have been the drawback to the development of Amador county for so many years.

Do You Want Strength?
If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues, before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by all druggists.

A dispatch was received in Jackson yesterday stating that Mrs. Clara Scholtz of San Francisco, a daughter of Mrs. Barker who lives on the Peck addition, died in that city on Wednesday night. Mrs. Barker and daughter Gertrude, also her sons, George and John Barker, and the latter's wife, left this morning for the city to attend the funeral.

Attend the special sale of clothing at Redlick's, and be convinced that they do as they say they do.

William R. Ford, son of R. M. Ford of Rancheria, died at his home near Quartz Mountain last Monday, and was buried in the Catholic cemetery at Sutter Creek on Wednesday last. Deceased was one of the old residents of that section of the county. For several years he had charge of the Governor mine. The cause of his death was miners' consumption. He leaves a widow and ten children to mourn his death.

Miss Frene R. Matson announces to the public of Jackson and vicinity that she has organized a class in piano music, and would be pleased to add to it any pupils desiring lessons. She is a thorough musician, and assures satisfaction. Terms 50 cents per lesson.

The strike at the Rawhide in Tuolumne county has been taken into the United States court. The Rawhide is incorporated under the laws of another state, and its owners can appeal for protection direct to the federal courts. This has been done by W. A. Nevills, and an injunction has been issued against 100 striking miners, forbidding them to interfere with the property in any way. When Marshal Shine went to Tuolumne county to serve the papers, he found only 13 of the 100 persons named. The Rawhide is running with a reduced force of non-union men.

Max Ladar, the tailor, will go to San Francisco next Sunday to purchase spring and winter goods. Intending buyers will do well to withhold their purchases until they have an opportunity of inspecting his new stock.

Mrs. Buffington, who has been visiting at her brother's, C. M. Meek, for the past month, returned to her home in Oakland last Monday. The whereabouts of Mr. Buffington is not definitely known at present. Letters have been received from him dated at various points in Pennsylvania, but all mailed on the train at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Vicini, wife of our district attorney, who has been in delicate health for some weeks, was taken to Ione Tuesday, en route to San Francisco for medical advice and treatment. It was the intention to stay in Ione over-night, for the purpose of rest, and proceed to the city the following day. She was accompanied by C. P. Vicini and the attending physician, Dr. E. E. Endicott.

Judge Rust was the victim of a painful accident last Saturday. While in his chamber in the court house about five o'clock, he was endeavoring to fix something about the window, when the upper window screen fell, the edge falling on the tips of the two middle fingers of the right hand, crushing them badly. The blood flowed freely, and the aid of a surgeon was called to dress the injuries. The judge was attending to his duties again Monday, with the two fingers bandaged. They will be exceedingly painful for some time.

Dave Mattley Jr., while cutting wood on his place south of Jackson last Friday, was the victim of a painful mishap. A piece of steel broke from the hammer or wedge, and struck him in the left leg, producing a flesh wound of several inches in length. Several pieces were extracted, but a large piece was taken out by the doctor in attendance on Monday. Mattley is able to get around with the aid of a walking stick. He hopes to be able to get to work again in a few days.

It is reported on reliable authority that the Globe hotel will change hands in a few days. Mr. Reasoner, who was here last week with the view of taking hold of the business, telephoned up early in the week that he had decided to purchase the business of the present proprietor, D. A. Nuner, and that he would be up in a few days prepared to clinch the deal. He is closing up his affairs in Lodi with that end in view. So far as known at present, the personal property and business interests of Mr. Nuner are included in the transaction, not the realty at present, although it is understood that negotiations were on looking to the purchase of the hotel itself.

The roads in different parts of the county have been made almost impassable by the continuous downpour of the past few weeks. Sutter hill is reported to be in a worse condition than it has known for many years. The coating of rock has been washed or worn off, leaving the miry clay as the roadbed, and the result is a terror to teamsters and travelers generally. In other places the highways are in bad shape. It all goes to show the urgency of a change in our method of working the roads. It is all very well to talk of using rock breaking plants at the mines for crushing the rock to be spread upon the road. That is all right so far as it goes, and would no doubt prove economical as providing the necessary macadam. But so long as the road work, and the hiring of men to do the work, are absolutely in the hands of the supervisors, who levy the tax and draw the pay in their own name, it is useless to expect any material improvement. When this pernicious system is stopped, by legal steps if necessary, the taxpayers may hope for some showing commensurate with the amount of money expended and not till then.

Rainfall.

Since our last report rain has fallen in Jackson, as measured by the Ledger office gauge, as follows:

February 26..... 0.14
February 27..... 1.16

Total..... 1.30
Total for season to date..... 23.66
Correspond'g period last season 16.82

Rain occurred during February on 18 days, the total for the month amounting to 11.82 inches. This is the champion record both in the number of rainy days and in the total rainfall of any month since we have kept the record, extending over a period of many years. In the storm of 1902-3 the record for March was 14 days, and 10.92 inches for the month. In February, 1902, there were 15 rainy days, but the total for the month was only 8.35 inches. The comparatively warm temperature that prevailed during the last storm brought down the snow from a considerable distance up the mountains, helping to swell the enormous rush of water into the valleys. The lowlands of Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys are under water, and immense damage has been done in the overflowed districts.

Marshall-DeWitt.

The marriage of Miss Alma J. DeWitt, formerly of Jackson, to Richard E. Marshall of Benicia, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, near Burson, Calaveras county, last Wednesday. Rev. Chas. Swithbank officiated. The fair young bride looked charming, attired in white organdie trimmed with satin and lace with white satin sash. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. M. D. Lofquist. The groom's best man was A. M. DeWitt of the Gwin mine, a brother of the bride. After congratulations a bountiful feast was served. Pleasant remarks and an exchange of compliments assisted digestion. It was a unique home wedding.

Delacchi, the Sutter Creek dentist, is still doing that excellent dentistry at the old stand. He guarantees satisfaction.

VOLCANO ITEMS.

The sun shone out bright and warm Sunday, allowing all who felt so inclined to attend church. We have not heard whether the prayers were pro or anti-rain.

Ed. Santirio, who has been confined to his room for ten days at Dr. Freeman's sanitarium, is on the streets again.

T. J. Leak of Sutter Creek, is doing the daubing act on some newly constructed buggies for T. J. Quinn and others.

Dolph About is lying dangerously ill at his residence on Jerome avenue of cirrhosis of the liver. Dr. P. S. Goodman of Sutter Creek, was called in consultation one day last week. Dr. Freeman, the physician in charge, has found it necessary to tap the patient twice, and has already taken 15 qts. of water from the abdominal cavity. The operation will be repeated Friday.

Supervisor Grillo keeps a watchful eye on the roads these stormy times.

Freight now costs $1 per cwt. from Ione to Volcano.

John B. Tregloan of Amador, is in town to-day.

Reports are rife that a surveying party from Sutter Creek came in contact with a loaded shotgun in the hands of one Thorn, near Defender. We cannot give particulars.

C. E. Grunsky of San Francisco, recently appointed one of the Panama canal commissioners by President Roosevelt, is a relative of Mrs. Frank Clute of the St. George hotel. By the way, we now have a president who realizes that a portion of the United States lies west of the Rocky mountains, and that the average westerner is competent to fill almost any position to which he may be called.

Our local politicians were greatly pleased with the outcome of the little tilt between Senators Ben Tillman and Geo. C. Perkins, the "Little Giant" from California. Mr. Tillman soon found that he was monkeying with a California buzz-saw. Senator Perkins is not only a good judge of California wines, but he also knows a good mining property when he sees one, as is shown by the Gover-Premont proposition. We expect him to be looking after Volcano nuggets soon.

Charles Cassinelli reports having had a splendid time during his recent stay in Jackson. We predict that Charley will be a frequent visitor to the county capital in the future.

We are heartily in favor of Jackson becoming a city, as well as the Sutter Creek-Jackson railroad proposition. It shows how rapidly and harmoniously the country is moving under the Roosevelt administration.

Jas. Grillo had a thrilling experience Saturday, when coming in from the Defender. The bit in the mouth of a spirited horse broke, and for a time the team was unmanageable. Grillo finally imagined that he was in a whirlwind game of baseball with the Jackson team, and jumped onto the pole, throwing one of the horses broadside. Manuel Santirio, who was near by, heard Jim cry, "How is that umpire?" Taking in the situation Santirio replied, "Safe on first," and going to the rescue things were soon righted, and Grillo went home rejoicing that he had come out a winner in the first game of the season.

Later—We have just learned that on Sunday Grillo was making ready to kill an excited steer, and while standing on a plank over a closed pen the plank broke, letting him down into the pen astride the steer. A hand to horn encounter followed, but Grillo soon brought a knife into play, and the steer is now being sold out by the pound.

Dogs are becoming valuable up this way. Ten dollars per foot is what Judge Robinson recently charged John Rinehart for shooting a foot off Mr. Bradley's fox-hound.

Mr. Clark reports a full attendance at school, notwithstanding the rainy weather. He says all the school boys have quit the cigarette habit.

Marsino and Sons have been picking up gold nuggets by the dozen for the last two weeks, ranging in value from one to five dollars. Monday they broke the record by bringing in a beauty, valued at $33.50. These men have a veritable Klondike of their own.

The justice court is in session to-day. S C RIBBLER.

Fatal Accident at Bunker Hill.

An Italian named Bernard Maggeora, lost his life in the Bunker Hill mine on Wednesday evening. He was employed as skip tender, his duty being to load the skip with ore at the various stations. At the time of the fatal mishap he was at the 1400 level. Just how the accident happened is not known, as there was no one present at that point but himself. It is thought he was standing on the center brace, expecting the skip down one compartment, but by mistake gave the signal which brought down the skip in the other compartment. In attempting to escape he was crushed between the skip and the apron or timbers. Nearly every rib was broken, and the vital organs were injured. He was speedily rescued and sent to the surface. He did not fall down the shaft from the 1400 level. He was unconscious from the time of the accident until he died. Dr. Staples of Amador City was summoned, but nothing could be done to avert a fatal ending. He died about 3 o'clock Thursday morning, seven hours after receiving the injuries. Deceased was a native of Italy, 46 years of age, and had worked at the Bunker Hill for two years. Coroner Huberty held an inquest yesterday at Bunker Hill, the jury finding a verdict of accidental death.

GOLD PRODUCERS OF AMADOR COUNTY

Argonaut Cutting Stations Preparatory to Taking Out Ore—The Climax in a Flourishing Condition.

SHENANDOAH.—Owing to the difficulty of getting wood, this mine near Plymouth has been compelled to shut-down temporarily. The condition of roads makes it impossible to secure fuel at this time. It is expected to start up again by the first of next month.

The Bay State or Rhetta mine is running steadily, under the management of Superintendent Worthing. It is about the only mine around Plymouth in operation at present. The Havilah mine at Nashville has suspended for what reason we are not prepared to state.

ARGONAUT.—At this mine they are now cutting the station at the 1950 level. There are still two more stations to cut below this without any further sinking. It is expected that fully two months will elapse before these stations are completed. It is then the intention to sink deeper, and at the same time run drifts to the ledge and take ore out. There will probably be a large reserve of ore in the bins before the mill is started. The bins will hold over 3000 tons of rock—nearly enough for a month's run. So that the starting of the mill is not likely in the immediate future. However, everything is working steadily and satisfactorily. The late heavy rains have largely increased the flow of water. It is now fully double the ordinary quantity. The facilities for handling it, however, are such that no difficulty whatever is experienced from this source.

CLIMAX.—P. B. Aiken, superintendent of the Climax, arrived in Jackson Wednesday night from San Francisco, and went up to the mine Thursday morning. He reports the mine looking exceedingly well, and exhibited some samples of specimen ore taken recently from the mine, which reminds one of the rich rock taken from this property under the Reed & Askey management. The specimens are literally covered with free gold, the precious metal comprising probably one-half the total weight of the specimens. Mr. Aiken says the result of the crushing recently made yielded an average of $8 per ton in free gold. The two-stamp mill is idle at present, owing to the bad condition of the roads rendering it impracticable to haul wood to supply the furnace with fuel. It is expected that wood will be obtainable in a few days. Miners have been kept at work taking out rock and doing development work. The operations have been confined to the 100 foot level. No development below this depth has been done. Drifts have been run at this level north and south for a distance of between 700 and 800 feet, showing good milling ore in each direction. The ledge is from two to six feet wide. In the north drift, which was run a considerable distance over ten years ago, following a small stringer of quartz, a large ledge of fine ore was discovered close to the timbers of the drift on the footwall. It is this ore-body that is supplying the rock for the mill. At the point where it was first encountered it was only two feet wide, but it has since widened out to something like six feet, and has been followed for a distance of between 100 and 200 feet. The company intends to put up more stamps this summer. It is gratifying to record this instance of the opening up of a paying mine in this locality, which is seven miles east of the mother lode. Of course, the shallowness of the workings will hardly admit of its being considered a proven mine, but there is no reason why the ledge should not continue to much greater depths. The Climax is making a very flattering showing, and all parties interested are jubilant over the outlook.

Accident at Zella.

During Sunday night an unfortunate accident occurred at the Zella mine, necessitating not only the stoppage of underground operations, but also the shutting down of the mill. The heavy rains had caused a serious increase in the volume of water to contend with, so that the two shifts of 12 hours each, were changed to three shifts of eight hours each, necessitating the employment of another engineer. R. Golds-worthy, the new engineer, was at the engine, and was hoisting water from the south compartment. The water tank was hoisted too far, and struck the timbers above the shaft with such force as to break the wire cable, and the tank, weighing 3600 pounds, went down the shaft with about 100 feet or so of rope. It fell from the top to the 850 level, striking the shaft timbers and track in various places, and doing more or less damage to both. The water tank is also damaged considerably. On account of the increase of water, the hoisting of ore had been curtailed to the extent of only being equal to meeting the actual crushing capacity of the mill. The ore in the bins was soon exhausted, and the mill has been idle since Monday morning. A repair force of five men each was kept steadily at work fixing the shaft. The damage was found to be mainly below the 450 station. On Tuesday the shaft was got in working order again.

Hoisting the water in the undamaged compartment was resumed during Monday. The repairs were made by Tuesday, and both tanks were going again Tuesday night. The tank that went down the shaft was damaged so that it had to be sent to Knight's foundry to be repaired. The water in the shaft raised rapidly during the period of idleness, completely flooding the 1400 level. It will take all the week to drain it so as to permit work to be resumed. Next week it is expected to resume underground operations and start the mill. The accident has involved the company in a loss of from $500 to $1000, besides the loss in the stoppage of the mill.

Will Colton, who has been driving the stage between Jackson and Mokelumne Hill, surrendered his position on the first of the month. Phil Bernardis of Sutter Creek, has taken his place.

Dr. Gall, the county health officer, informs us that one case of diphtheria exists in Sutter Creek, and a case of scarlet fever at Plymouth. These are the only cases of contagion at present in Amador county.

See our new line of ladies' and men's shoes. Our new line of summer shoes are arriving daily, and it is safe to say that the Jackson Shoe Store will have the swiftest line ever carried in Jackson.

L. Costa, who reopened the blacksmith shop near the Enterprise stable the beginning of last week, closed up the following Saturday. He left for Angels the same day.

B. C. O'Neill has purchased the Enterprise livery stable from C. Gilbert, providing some slight defects in the title be straightened out.

L. Cassel, for several years chief clerk at the National hotel, resigned his position on the 1st, and has left for other fields.

Fred Raab of Sutter Creek took charge of the Raglio stage lines in Amador county on the 1st instant. He has made some changes in the personnel of the drivers. Chris Hansen, who has been driving the Ione and Jackson stage for a number of years, has been replaced by Chris Meiss, from Ione valley.

The board of supervisors will meet in regular session next Monday. Among other matters it is likely that the petition circulated and signed by the merchants of the county generally, asking that the license on wagon and pack peddlers be increased, will be presented for consideration.

J. B. Tregloan was through Jackson Monday morning. His mission is to secure, if possible, an old-time mortar, used for crushing rock in the early days of mining. It is claimed there is such an implement in the vicinity of Pine Grove, and he hopes to be able to make arrangements for its transportation as an exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. State Mineralogist Aubrey is anxious to secure one of the early-day reminiscences of the mining industry for this purpose.

Superintendent Barrett of the county hospital is having considerable trouble in looking after straying patients. There are several inmates who from senility are not able to take care of themselves. They are not violent or dangerous, and for that reason, under the present law, they cannot be committed to the insane asylum. Nevertheless they need almost constant watching. They wander off, and when they get out of sight of the hospital they have no idea of their whereabouts, and cannot find their way home. The other day one was overtaken near Jackson Gate, who thought he was on his way to the valley. Scarcely a day passes that the superintendent does not have to start out on the trail of an estray. He is thinking of making an inclosure which will prevent patients of this kind from leaving the grounds.

Standard Electric Company Absorbed.

The California Gas and Electric Corporation has purchased the Standard Electric Company and Blue Lakes Water Company, whose works are mostly in this county. The deal went into effect on the first of this month. The purchase price is not given out. The purchasing company is in control of nearly all the plants in the northern part of the state furnishing electric power to the cities around the bay, and also of a large number of gas plants. From its various plants it is now supplying 45,000 horse power, and this enormous energy can be more than doubled as the demand for additional power arises. What effect the absorption of the Standard Electric will have upon this county remains to be seen. Whether the large improvements at the head of the system at Blue lakes will be pushed to completion, or whether they will remain dormant, we do not know. The Amador county electric and water system is now part and parcel of the biggest light and power corporation on the Pacific Coast.

Miners' Union Election.

The semi-annual election of officers of Jackson Miners' Union No. 115, W. F. M., took place last Wednesday between the hours of 2 p. m., and 8 p. m. All the afternoon there was a stream of voters to the union headquarters on Court street. The chief interest centered in the contest for secretary. H. Gobish, who has held the secretaryship for two terms, was a candidate for re-election. His opponent was John Lepava, an Austrian miner, who has worked in the Zella mine. He cut rather a poor figure in the voting however, being beaten by over 3 to 1. The total number of votes cast was 240. The result of the vote was as follows: For president Tom Canepa and H. Osborne of Kennedy flat were contestants. Canepa was elected with a vote of 187 against 45 for his opponent. For vice president there were three candidates, namely, A. Heller, who was elected with 129 votes, W. A. Jewell 71, S. Wilson 27. For secretary the vote was as follows: H. Gobish 176 votes, John Lepava 56. Outward warden, John Ferry 127, J. B. Martell 100. The following officers were elected without opposition: Recording Secretary, T. T. Hockings; Inside Warden, J. Milogevich; Trustees, H. Osborne and J. M. Flaherty. Phil Roberts is hold-over trustee.

Old Resident of Plymouth Passes Away.

William Felker, the well-known blacksmith of Plymouth, died in San Francisco, at the residence of a relative, on Saturday last. He had been suffering from a disease of the stomach for several years. Some weeks ago he went to Sacramento to consult with physicians there, who told him that his trouble was cancer of the stomach. He thereafter went to San Francisco, and was under medical treatment there when the last summons came. He was able to be around almost to the last. A few hours before he died he had been out, and on his return he seemed to collapse suddenly, and death ensued in a short time. The remains were forwarded to Plymouth for interment, and the funeral took place last Monday. He leaves several grown-up children.

Notable Birthday Party.

A noteworthy birthday celebration was held at the residence of L. N. Martell at Martell's station on Wednesday, March 2, in honor of the 55th anniversary of the birth of L. Martell son, who is one of the oldest pioneer residents of Amador county. L. Martell was born in Canada, March 2, 1839. In the fall of 1849 he started for California, making the trip by sea via Cape Horn. He arrived in Jackson in the spring of 1850, and has lived in Amador county ever since. He worked at his trade of blacksmithing until he reached the age of 76 years. He has raised a family of 10 children, and has 22 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren. The greater part of this large family participated in the birthday party this week. All had an enjoyable time, and expressing their earnest wishes that the aged sire may be spared to participate in many more pleasant gatherings of a like character, and that his life may be as happy and enjoyable in the future as it has been in the past.
